Art Unit: 3742

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-16 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-29 of U.S. Patent No. 6433319, and claims 1-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6674053. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims merely broaden the scope of the '319 claims, and appear to only explicitly recite inherent properties of the '053 claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1, 8, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by common knowledge in the art of electrical connectors.

The Examiner notes that any multi-strand wire supplying power to a flat electrical terminal, and clamped thereto by means of a screw, meets the claim limitations, since by comparison to a solid wire supply means, the strands spread as the screw is tightened and inherently redistribute the load on the terminal. Official notice is therefore given, that such cannot be regarded to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art of record.

Allowable Subject Matter

Subject to the filing of a terminal disclaimer, as discussed above, claims 2-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Subject to the filing of a terminal disclaimer, as discussed above, claims 9-15 are allowed.
